

Institutional Learning Outcomes

Students who leave RDC will have a strong foundation in their disciplines and demonstrate a high degree of effectiveness in the following areas:

1. Literacies
 - a. Information, digital, reading, visual, scientific, quantitative, financial, and technological literacies
2. Communication
 - a. Effective communication across formats, including oral, written, visual, and digital
3. Intellectual Capacity
 - a. Analytical thinking, curiosity, creativity, problem solving, logical thinking, depth and breadth, life-long learning
4. Ethics
 - a. Ethical awareness, reasoning, and behaviour, professional standards, academic standards, social responsibility
5. Wellness
 - a. Understanding one's self holistically including all dimensions of wellness, resiliency, time management, personal organization, self-care, self-management
6. Citizenship
 - a. Local to global citizenship, environmental awareness, social responsibility, civic engagement, historical awareness, cultural knowledge, awareness of diversity, inclusion, and social justice
7. Experiential Capacity
 - a. Professional and practical skills, professional preparedness, practical experience, application of theory to practice, ability to work autonomously, in groups/teams, and in interdisciplinary contexts
8. Indigenous Knowledge and Awareness
 - a. Understanding and respecting the history, culture, languages, perspectives, and present-day communities of Indigenous Peoples.